

Thorton Wilder's 'Our Town' Have Final Curtain Tonight

At 8 p. m. the curtain falls on the third and final performance of Thorton Wilder's prize winning play, "Our Town." The presentation of early 20th century life in a small town is sponsored by the Drama Department under the direction of Dr. Dan McLaughlin. Assistant director is the technical director, Rodney Wilson, and his wife, Anne Nielson, are convincing as the proud parents of Emily and Wally, played by Margaret Price and Danny Robertson.

The narrator, David Shestak, explains life and conditions in Grover's Corners, N. H., during the year 1901. The general hubbub of daily existence is noted in the family actions of the Gibbses and the Webbs. Dr. Gibbs and Mrs. Gibbs, played realistically by Tom O'Conner and Marcia Hensleigh, are the tolerant parents of George, Tom LaVille, and Rebecca, Marilee Crockett. Richard Heinz as Mr. Webb, editor of Grover's Corners' Daily Sentinel, and his wife, Anne Nielson, are convincing as the proud parents of Emily and Wally, played by Margaret Price and Danny Robertson.

Early Music Group to Give Program of Music of Past

The Early Music Quartet, scheduled to appear here Nov. 19, will bring a program of historical significance in the field of music to this campus.

The four young instrumental and vocal artists in the group include Willard Cobb, Sterling Jones, Andrea Von Ramm, and Thomas Binkley, shown in respective order, beginning at the top, in the accompanying picture.

Known in other parts of the world as Studio der Freuen Musik, the quartet was founded in 1960 and specializes in the music of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. Reports received here point out that "it has revived an art as rich and rewarding as the far better known painting and literature of the 11th through 16th centuries."

Since most of the original instruments which the ensemble uses have long been discontinued, much of the music had to be reconstructed, from a complex set of symbols without indication of pitch, recorded in manuscripts without lines.

The music produced by these four young artists has captured audiences on a number of Mid-Western campuses and in many different countries of four continents. They present about 150 concerts each season and have won an even wider following through numerous recordings.

The Early Music Quartet has performed in almost every country in the world, and for the first time is appearing in an extensive tour of the United States. Engagements from the Atlantic to the Pacific include a series of three concerts at Hunter College, New York; performances at New York's Frick Collection and the Library of Congress, Washington; in Canada, the University of California in Berkeley, Santa Barbara, and in Chicago.

Former MSC Athlete Dies After Accident

Services were held at Savannah High School Monday afternoon for Pedro Carrizales, Savannah, a former NWMSC student who died Friday at the University of Kansas Medical Center from injuries, suffered Thursday night in a traffic accident north of St. Joseph.

Two passengers in his car were also injured and taken to a St. Joseph hospital.

Carrizales, a 1961 graduate of Northwest Missouri State College, was a star football player here. He had been teaching at Savannah High School, where he was an instructor in industrial arts and driver training.

Senior Reigns at Homecoming

Miss Elaine Sherman, a senior English major from Maryville, was elected Homecoming Queen by her fellow students in an all-school election last week.

Sponsored by Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Miss Sherman is a cheerleader, president of People to People, secretary-treasurer of Book Club, corresponding secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma, and a past secretary-treasurer of UCCF. She has been Snow Queen, Phi Sigma Epsilon Sweetheart, and an alternate in the Community Ambassador Program.

Miss Sherman was crowned at the Thursday evening Variety Show. She, and her attendants and their escorts were honored by President Nick Erganian at the Friday night show.

Miss Mary Potter To Give Program At AAUP Session

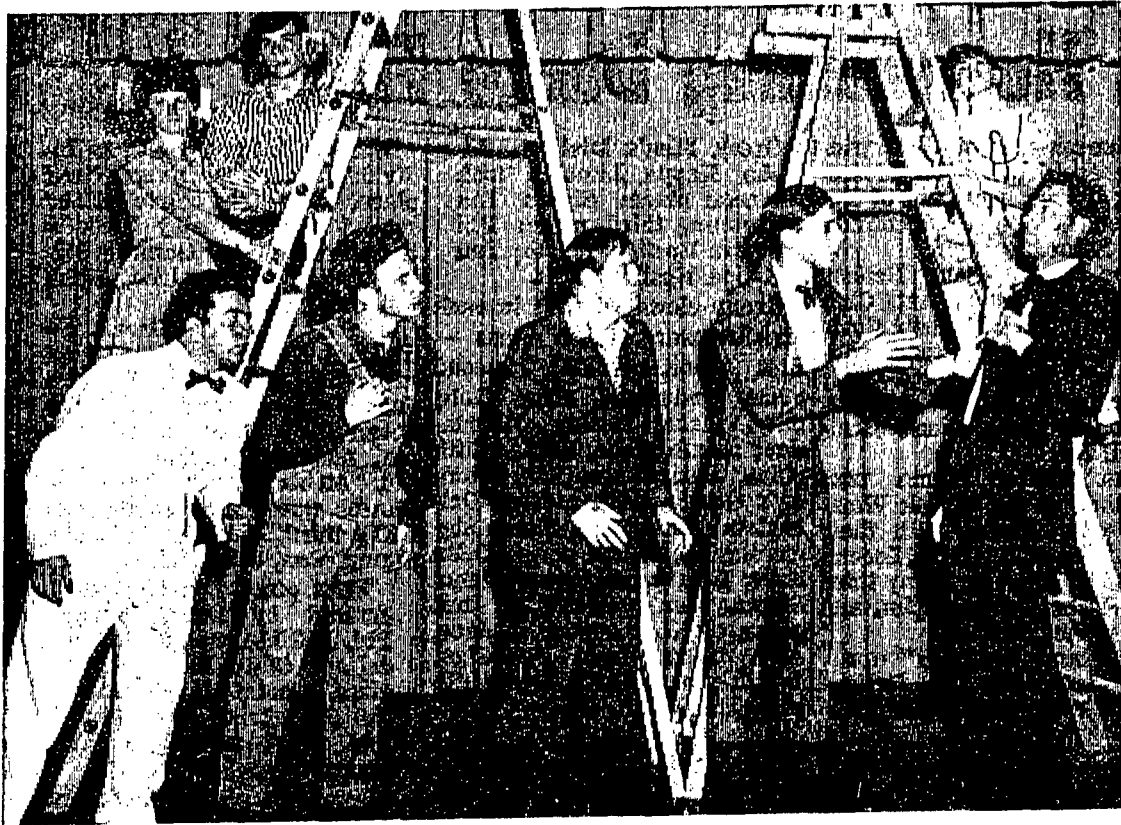

Miss Mary Potter, one of the first Community Ambassadors sponsored by NWMSC under the Experiment in International Living Program, will present a slide program, "Glimpses of Mexico," at the November meeting of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

The meeting will be held Wednesday evening in the audio-visual classroom of Wells Library. AAUP members are encouraged to be present for the first business meeting of the school year, scheduled to begin at 7 p. m., and to bring new or prospective members with them.

Miss Potter, a junior student from Sidney, Iowa, spent two months in Mexico this past summer. During half of that time, she lived in a home there as a member of a Mexican family. Miss Potter's presentation will be given after a short business meeting conducted by Luke L. Boone, president. Her talk will be followed by a brief question-and-answer period.

George Hinshaw is program chairman.

Actors Portray Small Town Life

MaraLee Crockett, Tom LaVille, and Margaret Price muse from their "ladder" rooms while Tom O'Connor, Ken Duff, Michael Overly, Richard Heinz, and Joe Maltzberger, the town choir director, hold a dramatic two-way conversation in "Our Town."

Horace Mann Alumni Elect New Officers

At their Homecoming banquet, alumni of Horace Mann High School selected as president Mrs. Kay Froyd McClurg, Pickering.

Charles Knorr, also of Pickering, was elected vice president. Mrs. Ramona Jensen Collins and Mrs. Cleta McClurg Brown, both of Maryville, were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

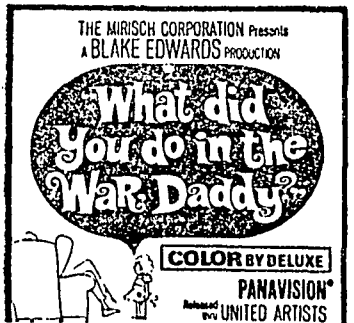

Faculty members of the college who were formerly instructors at Horace Mann High School were honored at the banquet.

Newman, Robinson To Seek THE PRIZE

The Prize, starring Paul Newman, Edward G. Robinson, Elke Sommer, and Diane Baker, will be shown Saturday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock in the Administration Building.

The serious background of this tale in which all the characters are in Stockholm to receive Nobel Prizes is almost incidental, for the film is a deft mystery-comedy.

Humphry, Council Bluffs; Reggie Turnbull, Maryville, and David Grisson, Carlisle, Iowa.

'Our Town'

(Continued from Page 1) ing young farmer, and tions of the families, the narrator or Stage Manager more thoroughly describes "Our Town" and summons "authorities" to expound upon the geography, anthropology, political standing, and social condition of Grover's Corners. Perhaps the town does not amount to much in the face of the world, but its people, nonetheless, enjoy the world. They may lack a strong cultural background, but they like "the sun comin' up over the hill in the mornings." In short, they are a pure, simple and agreeable folk.

The homelike town does, however, have its black sheep. Simon Stimson, portrayed by Joe Maltzberger, is a drunken choir director, and his counter-actor Louella Soams, played by Diana Jansen, is a sharp-tongued, menacing gossip.

The serenity of a beautiful moon pervades the closing scene of the first act. By the light of this moon, George Gibbs and Emily Webb their friendship.

Three years later predominant theme and marriage. George, an aspiring young farmer, and Emily, "the smartest in school," step from wish fantasy into actualization as their friends neighbors make a matrimony.

It is this process of up which teaches George "new people are almost better than the old."

After a 9-year time final act brings the to Grover's Corners in 1913. The universal the troublesome life and age are expressed in a remorse and confusion represented as vain but this view is resolved rescued souls of the have left "Our Town" that the living just understand life.

Business Office Has Enlarged Facilities

The cashier's counter in the business office of the Administration Building has been enlarged to better serve students and faculty.

The new counter will be more efficient since it will have three cash drawers for three cashiers. When the office is completed, the cashiers will be able to wait on more people at a time. Also the time once spent standing in line will be cut to a minimum.

Rearrangement of the inside office is being planned.

7 New Members Are Added To Business Department Staff

Coffee Break Time In 207 Colden Hall

The urn is on in the office of the Business Department in 207 Colden Hall, and newcomers to the department find a minute from their well-filled schedules to take a break.
They are, from left to right: Mrs. Earle Moss, Mrs. Luther Belcher, Russell Morey, Kenneth McKenzie, Thomas Goss-man, and Jerry Harris. Absent when this picture was taken was Mrs. Mack Jackson.

The Business Department at NWMSC has added seven new faculty members to its staff.

Mrs. Earle Moss feels quite at home at NWMSC since she formerly taught business here for almost four years and her husband has been connected with the Music Department here. Mrs. Moss earned her AA at Christian College, her BS and MS at Missouri University. After graduating, she taught high school classes in California. This year Mrs. Moss is teaching typewriting, shorthand, and methods.

Mrs. Luther Belcher, whose husband is also connected with NWMSC as business manager, is instructing classes in advanced typewriting, shorthand, accounting, and business and letter writing. After receiving her BA and MS in Education on the NWMSC campus, she did graduate work in both journalism and Spanish. She was awarded an NDEA fellowship for further work in Spanish in Puebla, Mexico. Since 1955 Mrs. Belcher has been teaching in Nodaway County high schools.

Instructor Russell Morey received his BA degree at Buena Vista College in Storm Lake, Iowa, and his MBA at the University of South Dakota. He is beginning his teaching experience at NWMSC, where he is teaching management courses.

Teacher of personnel management, data processing, insurance, and accounting this year is Kenneth McKenzie, who moved here from Texas to discover he is teaching with a childhood neighbor, Mrs. R.
Sunkel. Mr. McKenzie received his BSC from Texas Christian University and his MBA from North Texas State University, where he had a teaching fellowship. Before coming to NWMSC, Mr. McKenzie was associated with an oil company and an insurance agency.

Thomas Gossman, a native of Indiana, is having his first teaching experience at NWMSC after having practiced law in Seymour, Indiana. He received his BS in Business and his JD in law at Indiana University.

This year he is teaching business law courses and accounting.

Jerry Harris, another new Southerner in the Business Department, received his BBA from Southern State College in Arkansas and his MA from the University of Arkansas. He taught at Southern State College and did five years of public accountant work
before coming to NWMSC, where he is teaching intermediate accounting.

Commuting from her home
on a farm north of Hopkins, Mrs. Mack Jackson is teaching accounting courses at NWMSC, her alma mater. She received her BS and MS in Education here and has been teaching in area high schools. She also taught one previous year on the NWMSC campus.

Honor Fraternity Accepts Pledges

Kappa Omicron Phi, home economics honor fraternity, held pledging ceremonies
Wednesday for three coeds.

Home economics majors who entered the organization are Dianna Mullen, Judy Fore, and Mary Ann Combs. To be eligible for admission to Kappa Omicron Phi, a candidate must have a 3.0 grade average in home economics courses and an above average grade point in all other courses.

Floats Add Musical Atmosphere

A showboat atmosphere complete with a combo and show girls was created by the Industrial Arts Club for "Swanee River," shown at top.

"Silver Bells" was the theme of the Sigma Sigma Sigma float (shown in center of panel) which won first place in the Greek Women's Division. Riding in the sleigh is Joyce Hatcher.

Delta Sigma Phi captured first place with their entry, "Madame Butterfly," An oriental beauty, Cleta Herbert, is on the float (bottom picture in panel).

Harmony of Spirit, Song

Cold winds and early morning snow flurries failed to dampen the Homecoming spirit of NWMSC students, parents, alumni, faculty, and friends last Saturday.

An estimated 20,000 persons attended the 20th Annual Homecoming Parade, and many of the 9,000 who attended the game were cheering the Bearcats to their 21-14 victory over the Warrensburg Mules. Many graduates renewed old ties at the alumni banquet. Parents joined them for open house in the residence halls and at Greek receptions.

Spirit of many guests did not waver until Billy May and his orchestra had played the final number at the Homecoming Dance.

Each Homecoming entry was carried out with a musical theme. Students and faculty members demonstrated their musical talents at the Variety Show performance Thursday and Friday nights. Each float, jalopy, and clown in the parade brought to the viewers' minds a familiar tune. While driving through Maryville, motorists could "see a song" depicted by the house decorations on the front lawns of a number of homes.

The "World of Song" indeed enhanced Homecoming spirit throughout all the activities. Memories of it will remain for a long while in the hearts of those who attended NWMSC's 1966 Homecoming.

'El Matador'

Mechanized characters produced by the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity led to a first place award in house decorations for the fraternity for the second consecutive year.

Dr. Harr Receives Service Award

President Robert P. Foster presents an engraved desk set to Dr. John Harr for his 20 years of leadership in Northwest Missouri State College Homecoming activities.

Paws for a Victory

Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority won first place with their house decorations, centered around "The Pink Panther" and entitled "Paws for a Victory."

Schottel Names Homecoming Stars

Don Orlowski and Roger Schlegel were singled out by Coach Ivan Schottel as the outstanding players in the Bearcats' 21-14 Homecoming victory over the Warrensburg Mules.

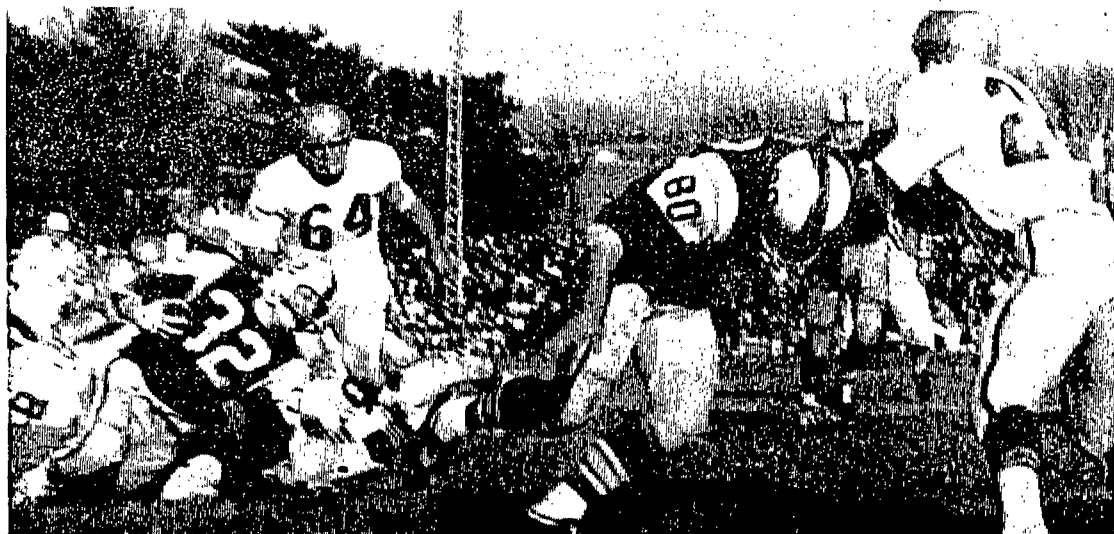

Orlowski, a junior from El Paso, Tex., guided the Bearcat offensive unit. In the second period of play, Orlowski scored on an 18-yard rollout to give the 'Cats a 14-7 halftime lead.

Schlegel consistently opened gaping holes for the running backs. His efforts had much to do with the plus-90 yards' rushing attack. The junior co-captain is from Dubuque, Iowa.

Spinello Picks up Needed First Down

In the 'Cats' 21-14 win over the Warrensburg Mules, Bob Albanese (80) opens a hole for halfback Joe Spinello, (32), who has already been tripped up by the defense but picks up a first down.

THE STROLLER

Recently the Stroller observed a soccer game taking place under Tower Hall. The ball, however, oddly resembled the dinner rolls that have been served in the cafeteria.

What's this report about reserved seats around the Cooper Hall television going for $3.50 to $4.50 during football games?

Has anybody besides the Stroller noticed the strange odor in the lobby of the cafeteria? If not, a good many students should check with the campus nurse on their sense of smell.

Ye olde Stroller has been checking the campus directory to see if any courses in fire building are being offered. Judging from the number of fires that seem to spontaneously erupt in the trash cans, it would probably be more appropriate to add "fire extinguishing."

One sharp student wonders. If every student in every residence hall turned his radio on full blast to the same radio station at the same time, would it be extremely difficult to study?

FREE! Jackets, notebooks, and books. Simply play the lost and found game in Room 113 of Colden Hall. Winners are to be selected on the basis of proper ownership.

The Stroller observes that a similar item was published in the Missouriian at an earlier date and pleads that readers inform their apparently non-reading colleagues of this generous offer.

While investigating the subject, the Stroller discovered that a dorm key had been found upon the floor lying amidst the dust of a forgotten day. Can it be that its owner now sleeps in a tree?

'Dr. Zhivago,' Pasternak To Be Book Club Topics

"Dr. Zhivago" and author Boris Pasternak will be the center of interest at the Nov. 17 meeting of the Book Club in the Lower Lakeview Room of the Student Union. The program is scheduled to begin at 7 p. m.

Following the screening of a nine-minute colored film, "An Interview With Boris Pasternak," Eric Nicholson will discuss Pasternak's novel in detail. An English playwright, Robert Bolt, adapted the motion picture "Dr. Zhivago" from the novel.

Refreshments will be served.

Director Rounds Conducts Audition For Concert Band

Auditions for Concert Band are now being held and will continue through Monday, Director C. Ward Rounds, instrumental music instructor, has announced.

Those who are not in marching band and wish to audition for the Concert Band, which includes a symphonic and varsity orchestra, should see Mr. Rounds in the DeLuce Fine Arts Building after 4 p. m. From these two groups a combination will be chosen to play at basketball games. Final selections will be announced Nov. 18.

Clarinetists, French hornists, flautists, trombonists, and tuba players are needed.

Early in the second semester a three-day tour will be on the group's agenda.

Meninger Clinic Art Displayed at MSC

Currently on display in the gallery of the Fine Arts Building is an exhibition of art work from the staff members of the Creative Arts Department of the Meninger Foundation, Tpeka.

Included in the exhibition are paintings, sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, and stitchery done by Don L. Jones, co-director of adjunctive therapies; Robert Ault, supervisor; Harriet Jones, Josephine Simpson, and John Tarlton.

Mr. Jones, who is a practicing art therapist at the world-famous Meninger Clinic, was on campus last year to present a lecture as part of the Visiting Artists Series on the topic of "Art Therapy."

Student President Proposes Evaluation of Homecoming

Throughout history man has continually devised different means of evaluating his success in the various aspects of daily living. Many times this type of measurement allows a person to visualize readily his achievements or failures.

Homecoming activities annually receive reverberating comments, and much of the discussion tends toward the negative attitude. Thus, how do we evaluate a successful Homecoming?

Is it a success when a large group of students bring talent into a variety show? Is it a success when an audience at such a show is well pleased and takes pride in praising our talented students and organizations?

Could success possibly be students turning out on a cold night for a bonfire to hear a coach speak? Is it success when a student body takes time to vote for its candidates for Homecoming Queen? Is success a parade that displays much work and planning, much beauty and splendor?

Is success a football team and coaching staff fighting back after a setback during the early stages of a game and eventually displaying team superiority with a victory?

Is success the largest crowd to attend a Homecoming dance in the history of Northwest Missouri State? And is success the combined efforts of faculty and students with a common goal in mind?

If this criteria is used in evaluating last week's Homecoming, then certainly without a doubt, the 1966 reunion was a success.

Many thanks to each person involved in Northwest Missouri State College's 1966 Homecoming. Special thanks go to Dr. LeRoy Crist, general chairman, who boosted every committee's efforts.

—Nick Erganian, Student Body president

Student Pollees

Consider 1966 Homecoming

In order that NWMSC students might express their opinions on this year's Homecoming and make suggestions for future years, the Northwest Missourian staff distributed a questionnaire on the recent Homecoming activities.

Over 100 responded with decidedly different views. The majority, however, agreed that this year's event was a success but cited several areas where improvement could be made next year. Sixty-five per cent of those polled agreed that all students should be dismissed on the Friday before Homecoming. Many stated that Homecoming was for all students, not just a select few working on floats and house decorations.

The variety show was another area examined by the pollees. Most students questioned concurred that eliminations to choose the most outstanding skits for the variety show were valid. The consensus was that the eliminations helped to shorten and improve this year's show. Dissenting pollees suggested that no skits be cut but that several of the fill-in acts between the skits be eliminated.

Opinion was equally divided on the question of faculty advisers to help perfect skits for the show. Several felt that faculty members helped to polish this year's presentation. However, they also felt that faculty members should have no part in awarding the trophies for the best skits. Nearly the same number of students stated that only student initiative should be the deciding factor in the perfection of skits.

An impressive 80 per cent of those questioned favored this year's method of queen selection — that is, having out-of-town judges for the first eliminations and student voting on the finalists. The policy of having out-of-town judges for the first eliminations was almost completely endorsed.

The only suggested change from this year's contest was expressed concerning limitation of the number of candidates. Most of the students questioned said that each organization should be allowed to sponsor only one candidate.

The Homecoming dance was another aspect receiving consideration. The idea of having a dance band which plays popular music brought equally divided responses. Some students expanding their views suggested a band that plays popular mood music. The majority of those completing the poll felt that a definite type of attire for the dance should not be established because college age students should be mature enough to choose proper dress.

In regard to the parade, judging of floats, and the game several different views were stated. Most students agreed that the number of bands and floats should be limited only when necessary. Several pointed out that rules for the judging of floats might be revised to make provisions for pre-fab floats and animations.

Considering the game, several suggested that no trophies be awarded or distracting announcements be made during actual playing time.

EDITORS' NOTE

The above poll expresses the views of a random sampling of students on the MSC campus and in no way reflects the opinions of the Northwest Missourian staff.

Campus Comments

An Open Letter to the Students

I have been co-editor of this paper only a short time. During that time it has come to my attention that a number of people on campus have adverse comments concerning the material in the Missourian, but to date this semester we have received only one letter to the editor.

I realize that many more activities on campus are probably more important (den bridge games and pledge duties, for example) but why not put some of your thoughts in writing?

One offered excuse is "My letter doesn't stand a chance of being printed," or "That paper doesn't ever print anything worth reading." As for having a chance of being printed, no letter to the editor can ever be considered for publication until it is submitted. How many of you have had a letter refused? — or has Joe Blow, the campus Berkleyite, told you all about how he was cut down for "bucking the establishment" when he submitted a letter?

Considering the second excuse, we try to cover campus activities, especially with advanced stories. We want to include material in good taste. When no student tells us what he or she doesn't like about the Missourian, however, or when some fail to tell us what they want included, how can we effectively evaluate the material covered?

The conclusion which must be reached, then, is that students either don't care what is printed (which some conversation in Colden Hall Lounge each Friday morning would refute), or that they enjoy working their jaws more than their brains.

Editorial policy remains the same: Letters must not be over 100 words in length, must be tastefully written, and must be signed (however, the writer may request that his name not be used).

"It is easier to perceive error than to find truth, for the former lies on the surface and is easily seen, while the latter lies in the depth, where few are willing to search for it." — Author Goethe had a point worth considering.

WALK IN THE PARK

When the sun comes out, let the lover wipe the grass stains off his knees.

He wishes for a cloud blown by a warm wind.

So keep walking among the weeds and woodticks.

Hold tight your acorns, for the squirrels are hungry.

Run down the mossy, slushy path, but do not pick the flowers;

Step on them.

Sit on the crumbling bank and count all the devices, stuffs, and things that ooze by.

See the child infect himself on rusty cans and smashed bottles.

Don't let him cry, mother; tell him to play in the woods, and pick a poison berry for him to eat.

Hurry; finish your dry sandwich and warm pop, but before you leave relax and smile at a tree.

Riding home along the interstate with other hot, sweaty maniacs say, "What a lovely day," . . .

Patches of blood here and there baking on the asphalt.

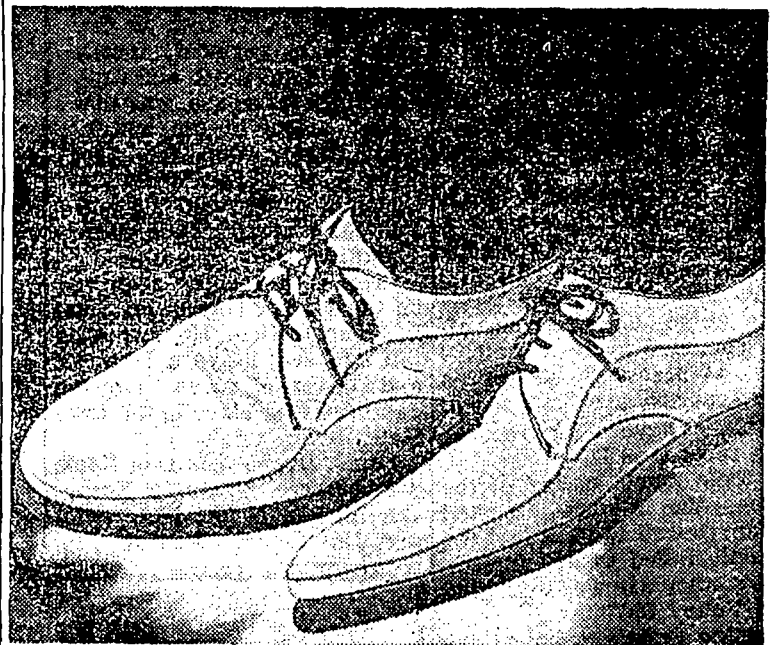

—John Sanders, Senior

Tankers Eye Improved Season

Swimmers Prepare For First Meet

Although swimming coach Lewis Dyche has only 16 prospects for the swimming team, quality of these athletes make up for lack of depth in the squad.

This team is loaded with No. 1 tankers. All four returning lettermen — Steve Connor, Lincoln High School, Des Moines; Jerry Peirce, Inglewood, Colo., and Randy Hansen and Mark Thomas, Tech High School, Des Moines — were first place winners in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association last year.

Peirce and Hansen were both members of the winning freestyle relay team. In addition, Peirce earned third in the 50- and 100-yard free-style, and Hansen captured second in the individual medley, 200-yard butterfly, and 500-yard freestyle.

Thomas and Conner were members of the second place medley relay foursome. Thomas earned other points by winning the 100-yard backstroke and placing second in the 200-yard backstroke. Conner won a blue ribbon in the 100-yard butterfly.

Others returning to the squad are Linn Jones, 500-yard freestyle competitor, and Bill Farand, freestyle sprint man.

Four promising freshmen hope to strengthen the 'Cats. They are Bob Puck, West Davenport, Iowa; John Clover, Kansas City; Jerry Logston, Tech High School, Des Moines, and Rod Cruz, Alexandria, Va., who all maintained impressive high school records.

Puck placed fifth in the four-state regional, fourth in the state meet and first in the conference and district meets in the butterfly. Clover won the city 100- and 200-yard freestyle events and placed seventh in the state freestyle competition.

Cruz is a former swimmer on the U. S. Army swim team in Puerto Rico. He swam in the 200- and 400-yard freestyle and distance races. Logston captured first place in the Iowa state diving finals.

Coach Dyche lists Don Rock, South Barre, Vt.; Bob Kosunski, Linden, N. J.; Mike Scott and Jim Cooper, Kansas City, and Lloyd Logan, Plattsburg, as other freshman prospects. Steve Clark, a junior from Creston, Iowa, will also be practicing with the team for the first time.

Coach Dyche thinks that Warrensburg, the 1966 MIAA conference winner, will be the big league contender.

The following meets have been scheduled:

December 9 Washington Univ. (St. Louis) here
10 Park College away
14 William Jewell here
17 Wayne State away
January 7 Springfield here
14 Warrensburg here
20 Open
February 4 Washburn here
10 Emporia State away
11 Springfield away
16-18 MIAA at Warrensburg
March 9-11 Interstate at Warrensburg

Comprehensive Tests Set for December

The Social Science Comprehensive Examination will be given at 8 a. m. Saturday, Dec. 10. Students who plan to take the examination must fill out the application form available in Colden Hall, Room 307.

This examination is required of all Social Science majors and minors taking an AB or BS degree, and all social science students entering practice teaching.

Wrestle-offs for Team Berths Scheduled for Coming Week

The NWMSC wrestling team started working out Oct. 31, and the wrestle-offs to decide starting spots will begin Thursday.

Coach Jerry Landwer is hoping for a good season, although Warrensburg is favored for the conference championship, with Springfield's Bears and the Bearcats each promising to give them a close battle. Warrensburg lost only one member of last year's squad, while Springfield has strengthened its team with five transfer students.

Last season the 'Cats recorded 11 wins and 2 losses, won the Graceland Tournament, and were the MIAA Conference champions.

This year the Bearcats will miss the strength of Allen Packer, Arnold Thompson, Harvey Hallum, Gary Randall, and Bob Reese, who, combined, had only 5 losses in 61 matches last season. Nationally, Packer placed fourth in 1965, and in 1964 Thompson and Hallum placed sixth.

In the 130 pound division, senior co-captain Jerry Mason returns; in the 137, sophomore Bill Rex, a transfer from ISU, and veteran Dennis Stephens vie for top spot; in the 145, senior letterman Gary Grimes returns; in the 152, senior co-captain Ron "Jesse" James, last year's second leading scorer, returns and should receive solid support from letterman

Paul Stamen.

In the 177 pound class, sophomore Bob Decklever is backed by junior Doug Baker; and in the 191, Allen Borkowski, who was listed last year in the Amateur Wrestling News Magazine as one of the top 10 sophomore wrestlers in the nation, carries the load.

James was voted the outstanding wrestler in the Graceland Tournament and in the Conference Tournament last season. Both James and Borkowski are returning conference champions. Tom Paulsen placed second and Jerry Mason third in the conference.

According to Coach Landwer, the freshman team appears to be the best since the 1962-1963 season. Freshmen who may receive starting assignments are Corry Crandall, 115 pounds, Des Moines; Wayne Garcia, 123, Saydel, Iowa; Stan Zeamer, 130 and 137, Elizabethtown, Penn.; Dale Palmer, 167, Corning, Iowa; and Mike Carey, 119, Urbandale, Iowa.

This season's schedule contains three Big Eight foes: Iowa State University, University of Nebraska, and University of Missouri.

The first meet is the Graceland Tournament, a 10-team match, Dec. 3.

"We've won this tournament seven years in a row, and we'll be shooting for number eight," Coach Landwer commented.

"We hope for more participants in tennis next year," stated Dave Karaff, assistant chairman of intramurals.

Intramural handball has been added this year, Karaff said. It will be held during the second semester.

Area Basketball Clinic Scheduled for Monday

Northwest Missouri State College will host a basketball clinic starting at 9 a. m. Monday in Lamkin gymnasium.

Coach Joe Cipriano, University of Nebraska basketball coach, will be the featured speaker. Group sessions will be conducted by Bearcat Coach Richard Buckridge and Bob Ogden. Ogden's team at Bethany High School, represented this area in state basketball finals last season.

The Clinic lasts all day, with a noon meal included in the registration fee of $2.00. Any student is welcome, free of charge, and area coaches and officials are urged to attend.

Well-Matched Miners, Cats To Vie at Rolla

Coach Ivan Schottel's Bearcats will be seeking win No. 3 when they take to the road for a conference clash with the Rolla Miners Nov. 12.

The game, an afternoon affair scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m., is a toss up as far as team records are concerned. The 'Cats have a 3-5 record; Rolla records is 2-5.

In their fourth outing of the season, the Miners defeated William Jewell 16-13, a feat the Bearcats failed to accomplish. Rolla's other win was over Missouri Valley 29-7.

Leading Rolla's aerial attack is quarterback Ron Lewis, who has started at that slot for three seasons. Lewis has completed 103 of 235 attempted passes this year and has thrown for 1,316 yards.

Rolla's coach, Dewey Allgood, will probably select a majority of his starting eleven from a nucleus of 20 returning lettermen.
